

Welcome to Ackermann Group Receivership Services

“Their expertise is next to none” ~First Financial Bank

When a property goes into foreclosure, time and time again the banks and courts have chosen to entrust their properties to Ackermann Group:

“...what a wonderful job Karen and her team have done for First Financial Bank, representing us as receiver... She and her staff have been professional, prompt, and very poised when dealing with pressure situations. They have definitely been a value added to First Financials approach to the recovery, liquidation and management of properties.”
-Matthew Michael, Senior VP, First Financial Bank

Although it would be great if the services of a receiver were never needed; these services are required despite peoples’ best intentions and efforts. Ackermann Group’s experience coupled with its management systems, market knowledge and relationships can serve as a successful solution to the job at hand.

“It was a challenging situation and you rose to the occasion.”
-Richard Fischel, Bank of America
